WHITIKI TAUA - TOITŪ TE TIRITI

On Budget Day, 30 May 2024, thousands of Māori and tāngata Tiriti supporters alike descended upon the grounds of Parliament in a strong, peaceful and dignified display of Kotahitanga against the anti-Māori policies of the coalition government.

Whatungarongaro te kawanatanga, toitū ngā iwi! Toitū te Tiriti!

Materoa taking the opportunity on the steps of Parliament to mihi to our Te Pāti Māori MP, Debbie Ngarewa-Packer.

First results out from the 2023 Census

Te Kāhui Rauranga described the growth in the Māori descent population as a “transformative shift”.

- 1 in 5 people in Aotearoa New Zealand are of Māori descent. 12.5% higher than 2018.
- 1 in 3 under 25 year olds identify as Māori
- Aotearoa New Zealand’s Māori population is at 978,246 (nearly one million people).
- Growing ethnic diversity. Many Māori have whakapapa that connects them to other nationalities.
